Communtywide expressway project

Hundreds join in landscaping

Approximately 150 persons participated in a king-size communitywide landscaping project along the expressway on Saturday morning in which more than 1000 trees and bushes were planted in less than two hours.

The holes were dug (from Budd to Camden) previously by county crews and the plants were also furnished by the county in the joint Campbell-county operation in which Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens and James Pott, county public works director, coordinated the project on the county level.

Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman of the Campbell Citizens for Beautification coordinated the program on the local level in which volunteers responded in an unprecedented manner.

More than 35 organizations were represented at the "Plant-in" in which faculty and students from Campbell, Blackford, Prospect, Del Mar and Westmont high schools;

Your editor carried a camera instead of a shovel (as the spread below will testify) last Saturday morning when the mammoth civic landscaping project along the expressway from Budd to Camden was completed in less than two hours by a group of dedicated people, ranging from high school age to senior citizens.

Some of those pictured are easily recognizable. For example, you can pick out Jeanette Watson, chairman of the beautification committee and coordinator of the project, with Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens, who spearheaded the project on the county level.

Then there is City Manager Bob Stephens giving extra loving care to one of the plants and Councilman Bill Podgorsek is shown sizing up the trees.

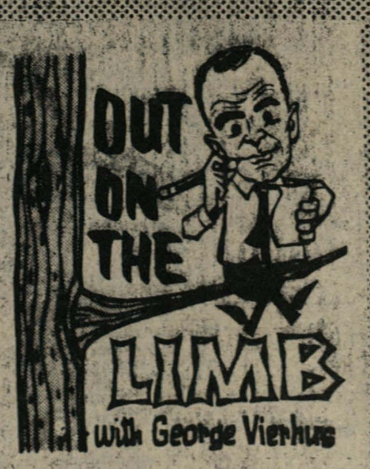
Groundbreaking on Monday

Earth-moving equipment will move onto the new city hall next Monday, June 1, at 9 a.m. starting the long-awaited construction program for the $1 million civic center complex.

To mark the occasion, a brief groundbreaking ceremony will be held, according to City Manager Bob Stephens, involving city officials and civic leaders.



THE PRIMARY ELECTION next Tuesday is the big thing coming up and on the editorial page we have made a few endorsements.

We have stuck only to the non-partisan action, for we have long contended that the primary is mainly a "nominating" activity. We prefer to hold off until the chips are down in November before doing our endorsing act.

We are not being chicken. That's just the way it is.

Last week we made our suggestions on the eight statewide propositions.

It turned out that we recommended "Yes" on the first seven and "No" on "No. 8."

The editorial on page 2 in this issue recommends a "Yes" vote on the two Campbell Union (elementary) School District measures on the ballot.

(Proposition "O" asks the electorate to approve an increase in the interest rate of unsold bonds held by the district to a maximum of 7% from the present 5%. They can't sell 'em at 5% on today's market.)

(Proposition "P" asks that the district's maximum tax rate be increased 60¢ from $2.55 to $3.15 per $100 assessed valuation.

-0-

WE HAVE MADE NO RECommendation on "Proposition N" which is the $35.6 million bond issue for the West Valley Junior College District.

But the editorial spells out in general the proposal that has been submitted by the trustees of the district.

We believe that a bond issue is necessary for West Valley College. We favored all three previous measures that were turned down by the voters.

We are not against the bond issue this time but we are a little concerned over the priorities that have been established for the use of the bond funds.

We think, for example, that it is premature to commit funds for the purchase of a campus site in the southeastern portion of the district, despite any studies that have been made.

Today a study becomes out-dated almost from the time it is submitted.

There will be too many changes made in the operation of all community colleges in the near future to attempt to pinpoint a brand new location for the junior college.

You just have to make up your own mind this time without our esteemed help.

-0-

THE EDITORIAL MAKES no recommendation in the sheriff's race either.

But that's a horse of a different color.

There are six candidates in the race for sheriff.

And, as we write this column, we have not yet made up our own mind as which of the three candidates will get our vote.

We sincerely hope we are able to make a decision before we enter the polling booth next Tuesday.

That's the reason there is no endorsement for sheriff in today's editorial.

-0-

IN EXAMINING YOUR sample ballot, we imagine you were shocked to see there were so many candidates for the various statewide offices that you hadn't heard about.

Although Gov. Reagan is the lone Republican candidate for governor, there are 10 Democrats seeking the nomination, including Jess Unruh and Sam Yorty.

But how about Clapper, Douglas, Haight, May, Ramos, Buchanan, Ramirez and Wagner?

Editorial

Some endorsements

A lengthy ballot will be in the hands of the electorate next Tuesday, June 2, in the Primary Election.

The Primary is, in a sense, the nominating convention for the various candidates seeking to be their party standard-bearers in the General Election in November.

Following the precedent set a number of years ago The Press does not make any endorsements for the partisan nominations that are up for grabs in the Primary.

We will hold our fire, so to speak, until the November election when the chips are down between the candidates of the two major parties.

But there are a number of non-partisan offices that will be decided in the Primary. Or, at least, the two top candidates will be named for a run-off in November.

The Press has some definite recommendations to make in most of those cases, although, quite frankly, in a couple of the races, it is somewhat of a juggling act to come up with any endorsement.

But let's take a couple of the "definite" ones first:

SUPERVISOR, 4th district.

Unhesitatingly we recommend the reelection of SUPERVISOR RALPH MEHRKENS, who has been supervisor since 1960, of the "fourth" of which the major part of Campbell is a part.

In our opinion, Ralph Mehrkens is deserving of reelection because he has proved by his record that he is a dedicated public servant. He works at his job full-time in the interest of the citizens. He has also shown by his record that he recognizes that he is the community's representative on the board.

We are pleased to urge the reelection of RALPH MEHRKENS.

COUNTY ASSESSOR.

We recommend the election of DALE H. SCOTT of Campbell to this important office.

Scott has had extensive experience with tax problems. (He is the former executive director of the Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association). He is rated as an authority on a statewide basis in many phases of the overall critical tax and assessment problems that are facing us today.

Because Dale Scott has been active in civic affairs (he is currently serving as vice-chairman of the Campbell Planning Commission), we have had the opportunity to get to know Dale personally and we sincerely believe he is well-qualified for the position of Assessor.

Incidentally, Scott has had the rather unique distinction of being named the outstanding young-man-of-the-year because of his achievments two years in a row. He received the distinguished service award from the Campbell JayCees in 1969 and in 1970 the San Jose JayCees awarded him the same honor.

We sincerely recommend Dale Scott for County Assessor.

COUNTY SHERIFF:

There are six candidates seeking the office of Santa Clara County Sheriff from which the present sheriff, Charles J. Prelsnik, is retiring.

Two of the candidates, James M. Geary, undersheriff, and Ralph D. Howard, a lieutenant, are present members of the sheriff's department while another candidate, Earl Lewis, who is law enforcement coordinator in the Foothill College District, has had 22 years of law enforcement experience with 10 years of that time is the county sheriff's department.

Another of the candidates is Harold Kels Ratliff, a San Jose police officer.

Still another candidate, Sam Della Maggiore, a former county supervisor and who also has some police training background, is a strong contender for the office of sheriff.

At the risk of being accused of not having the courage of our convictions, The Press is not endorsing any of the candidates for sheriff at this time.

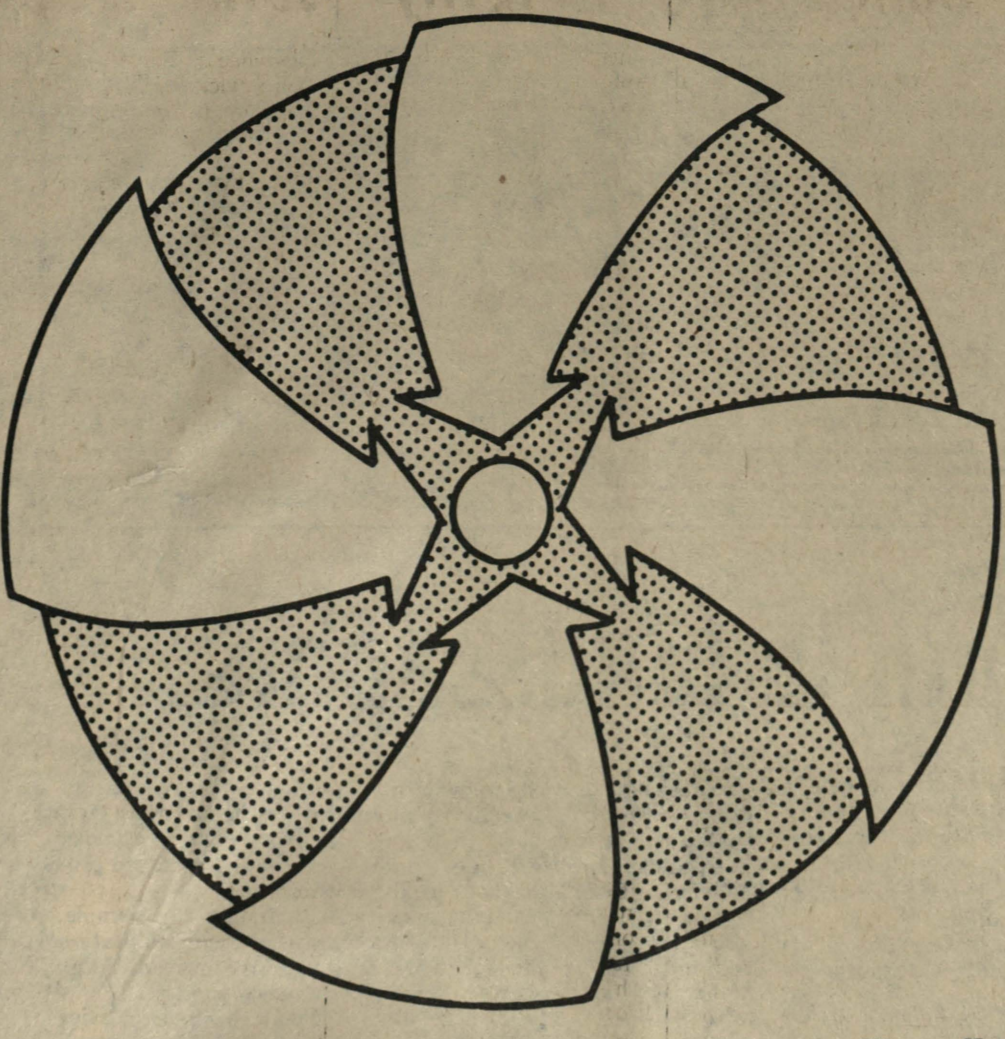
Quite frankly, your editor does not know who is the best qualified and, at this time we don't know how we are going to cast our own ballot.

Therefore, how can we tell you?

Incidentally, there are nine candidates for the nonpartisan post of STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION. An office now held by Dr. Max Rafferty.

Dr. Rafferty is a controversial figure but he has focused attention on many educational problems that are in critical need of attention.

We believe he should be reelected for a third term.



Chamber of Commerce adopts special type "logo"

Whenever and wherever you see the above logo—THINK CAMPBELL.

The symbol has been adopted to officially represent the town of Campbell by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and will be used in all CofC representative material. In time it is hoped that the symbol alone will immediately identify Campbell.

The whole logo together represents Campbell as the hub of the Santa Clara County. The arrows signify movement and growth, while the four arrows pointing in represent the four aspects of growth concern in the CofC government, residential, commerce and education.

The design was drawn by the local IBM graphics department with Norman Paul, Campbell CofC vice-president as coordinator, and was officially adopted at the May CofC luncheon. Final colors for the logo have not yet been decided upon.

School district measures

There are two measures on the ballot in the Primary Election, June 2, pertaining to the Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

One of the measures affects the bond interest rate limit for the district. The district is now limited to a 5% ceiling on bonds that were approved by the voters in 1964. The district can no longer sell the bonds it holds at the 5% rate and is asking for voter approval, (a two-thirds majority is needed) to raise the interest rate to a maximum of 7%.

The approval of the electorate will allow the district to continue on the state school building program.

We urge the citizens of the district to approve this measure.

The other issue affecting the school district on the ballot affects the general purpose maximum tax rate of the district which was approved in 1964 at $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation.

The district is asking approval of the voters to increase the rate by 60 cents per $100 assessed valuation to $3.15.

Because of rising costs, a number of essential educational services must be drastically curtailed, unless the increase in the tax rate is approved by a majority vote on June 2.

It is our opinion that the present excellent program of the district should be maintained and that the tax increase is necessary, if that is to be done.

We urge a "YES" vote also on the tax rate increase.

West Valley College bonds

Voters in the West Valley Junior College District (Campbell, Los Gatos-Saratoga and Santa Clara High School districts) are being asked at the June 2 primary to approve a $35.6 million bond issue which has been submitted by trustees of the junior college district.

This is the fourth attempt since the district was founded in 1963 to secure bonds for buildings to house the increasing student enrollment at West Valley, now operating on the Saratoga campus as well as the temporary Campbell site. All three previous attempts failed at the polls.

According to the proposal submitted by the trustees of the district, funds from the bond issue will be used to complete the Saratoga campus; acquire and construct a campus in Santa Clara; acquire a third site in the southeast part of the district; and, also, to purchase the land upon which the temporary campus in Campbell (the former Campbell Grammar School) is located.

The Press is not wholly in agreement with the principle that a third site for the college should be acquired in the southeast portion of the district.

We think that the future situation is too "iffy" at this time to specify that funds will be spent for such a purchase.

We have long advocated, however, that efforts should be made to acquire the temporary-permanent campus in Campbell. Having a temporary campus in a key location in this community has made it difficult in the planning for any other future development of community.

Obviously, it is necessary to complete the Saratoga campus, if the college district is to do its complete educational job and, apparently, according to all surveys, a junior college campus is needed in Santa Clara.

The Press suggests that the voter should study all ramifications of the situation and then cast their ballots according to their own convictions.

COLORS DEDICATED

Barracks No. 3157, World War I Veterans, dedicated the post colors recently with colorful ceremonies presided over by Virgil Murphy, Past Commander of Barracks 710, San Jose.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Adelene Murphy of San Jose and Mable Guess of Campbell. William Hodges is the local commander.

MORE ABOUT

Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke is the sole Republican contender for second-in-command. But there are four Democrats headed by Santa Clara County's state senator, Al Alquist.

There are a dozen candidates for secretary of state; three Democrats, seven Republicans, one Peace and Freedom and one American Independent.

George Milias, of Gilroy, an assemblyman for eight years from this county, is one of the Reps along with Mrs. Alberta Jordan and five others.

On the Democratic side Edmund G. Brown, Jr., (son of the former governor) and State Senator Hugh Burns seem to be the top contenders.

-0-

AS A SORT OF A CONtrast there are four pretty well known figures trying for the Republican nomination for attorney general, including Spencer Williams from this county.

There are 15 candidates for the U. S. Senate seat now held by George Murphy; seven Democrats, four Republicans, two American Independents, one Peace and Freedom.

Norton Simon is trying to make a race against the incumbent Senator Murphy. And on the Democratic side such well known political names as Rep. George E. Brown, Jr., Rep. John V. Tunney and Los Angeles Supervisor Kenneth Hahn appear on the ballot.

So it goes. That primary ballot is really a humdinger.

Be sure to punch the right holes.

MORE THAN 500 PEOple gathered recently at a dinner to pay tribute to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, who is retiring on July 31 as president of West Valley College.

It was a heart-warming event and it must have made Wally feel pretty choked-up to hear the many nice things that were said about him.

But he is deserving of the tributes that were paid him, for he has done a great job in establishing the college and then sort of holding its hand through all the trying periods.

We join with Wally's many friends in wishing him well in his retirement and also give him an extra pat on the back for a job well done.

One of the honors received by Dr. Hall that he will long remember is of a permanent nature.

The West Valley students have voted to name the new student center at the Saratoga campus after him.

It will be called the Wallace W. Hall building. Obviously it will be known as "The Hall".

Why not "The HALL HALL".

Or is that too redundant for the college kids.

FROWNS ON THE FACES of irritated motorists turned into grins one day last week after they learned the reason why they had been stopped by the crossing guard at Coventry School on heavily-traveled Campbell Ave.

According to Carl Winther, The Press ad manager, who was one of those stopped. the reason for the frowns was that there were no kids around when the little lady stopped traffic.

So the drivers couldn't see any reason to come to a halt.

But then they found out.

And that's when they started grinning.

A little bird that was apparently checking out for the first time its newly-discovered wing power had fluttered onto the busy roadway.

The guard had observed the bird's plight-in-flight and promptly held up traffic until the bird was able to get back to safe ground.

After all, Campbell is a bird sanctuary by official action of the City Council.

So maybe the birds know it by now.

A SARCASTIC LITTLE note this week called the attention of the office and back shop force to a typographical error that had appeared in one of the ads in last week's issue.

The ad included a coupon for this week's special.

It specified that the offer was void after May 10. (Last week's issue came out on May 20.)

The rather biting note read as follows: "What a wonderful newspaper you are, everything up to date-all local news and out on the limb-yes that's you-do you ever read your proofs-? Please print this in your column."

So we have.

Unfortunately, typographical errors will continue to occur in this and all the other newspapers in the land.

For example, a glaring one occurred in the brochure that our back shop printed for the election ("argument" was spelled "arguement" in more than half of the brochures before the mistake was carried.

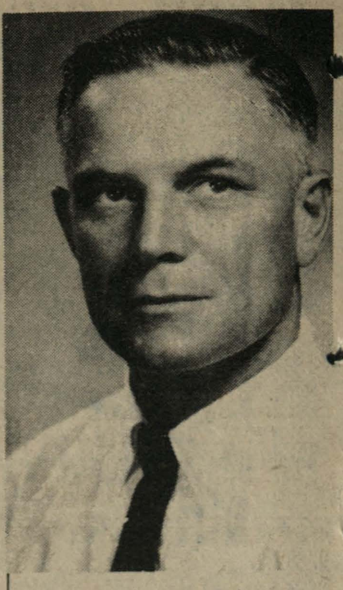
It was missed by at least four people who had read proof on the brochure before it went on the press.

As most of your know, many mistakes can be covered up.

But when you make 'em in print, they become mighty public.

So we will try harder.

Not to make them, that is.



APPEARS BEFORE COUNCIL--Myron Alexander, of, 40 S. Third St., a local real estate agent and director of the Chamber of Commerce, requested the City Council on Monday to submit a report to the people on the "city hall story". He felt that the people needed to know all the ramifications involved that led up to the fiscal situation in which the city is now in, which will probably necessitate a substantial tax increase next year.

Here's an amazing fact... Did you ever realize that big league baseball and football teams can play 50 years and not draw as many people as can see them in JUST ONE DAY on television!...Let's say a team's home attendance averages 1-million people a year...Thus, they could play 50 years and draw a total of 50-million fans...But ONE game on TV can draw more than 50-million viewers in one afternoon, so a team can play to more people on TV in one game than they can draw in their own stadiums for over 50 years!

Many propositions, candidates complicate lengthy June 2 primary election ballot

Citizens vote next Tuesday

Voters in next Tuesday's (June 2) Primary Election have a complicated and lengthy ballot to wade through, including partisan offices (governor, etc.) non-partisan offices (assessor, sheriff, etc.) plus statewide propositions.

In addition, two special measures on the ballot ("O" and "P") Campbell Union (elementary) School District, while "N" is a $35.6 million bond measure for the West Valley Junior College District.

Proposition "O" asks approval of the electorate to raise the maximum interest rate on unsold bonds from 5% to 7% and "P" seeks voter approval for an increase in the maximum tax rate from $2.55 to $3.15 per $100 assessed valuation.

ASSEMBLY

In the partisan offices, on the area level, local interest has centered on the candidates seeking their party nominations in three of the assembly districts (22nd, 24th and 25th).

Most of the Campbell area lies in either the 24th or 25th with the 22nd taking in only a small portion.

In the 25th, Assemblyman Earle P. Crandall (retired San Jose school superintendent), who is completing his second term in Sacramento, is unopposed for the Republican nomination. There are seven Democrats seeking to be Crandall's opponent in November.

The Democrats are Murray (Pete) Heinrich, William H. Deal, Ernest F. Abeytia, Alfred F. Cervantes, Les Francis, Alister McAlister, and Gary Vassar. There are also two candidates for the American Independent Party.

In the 24th Assembly District, Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, completing his second term, has no opposition on the Democratic slate. On the Republican side, Mrs. Virginia Shaffer, a long-time member of the San Jose City Council, and William L. Tidwell, a professor of Microbiology at San Jose State are battling for the GOP nomination.

In the 22nd Assembly District, five Republicans are seeking the post formerly held by George Milias, now running for secretary-of-state. Ken Croft is the lone Democratic candidate.

Republicans on the ballot include, Egon Jensen, Ben Reichmuth, Terry A. Green, Richard D. Hayden, Jan Henry Groenen, Richard R. Garrod. There are also two American Independent candidates.

STATE SENATOR

State Senator Clark L. Bradley, who has been in the senate since 1963 and previously served as an assemblyman, is being challenged for the Republican nomination in the 14th district by William J. (Bill) Homan, of the Cambrian Park area, who has been a member of the West Valley Junior College board of trustees since 1964.

John B. Rutherford is seeking the Democratic nomination.

CONGRESS

In the 10th Congressional District, Rep. Charles S. Gubser, who has been the district's representative for 18 years has no opposition for the Republican ticket and Stuart D. McLean has no opposition for the Democratic nomination.

In the 9th Congressional District, Mark Guerra, of Campbell, a member of the Campbell Union High School District administrative staff, is seeking the Republican nomination with Rep. Don Edwards, the incumbent, unopposed on the Democratic side.

SUPERVISOR

The "most" local, of course, of all the races this time is the Fourth District Supervisorial contest.

Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens, a member of the board since 1960, is being challenged by two Campbell residents, Henry J. Santoro and Henry C. Batis.

In the first district, Supervisor Sig Sanchez is opposed by Merc Maran.

COUNTY OFFICES

Three non-partisan county offices, district attorney, sheriff, and assessor are before the electorate also.

District Attorney Louis Bergna, in office since 1957, has no opposition, however.

The sheriff's race has attracted six candidates: James M. Geary, undersheriff; Ralph D. Howard, sheriff's lieutenant; Earl Lewis, former sheriff's captain and presently law enforcement coordinator in junior college; Harold Kels Ratliff, San Jose police officer, Lawrence J. Romero, retired civil service and Sam P. Della Maggiore, former supervisor.

Three are seeking the county assessor's job. Dwight L. Mathiesen, the incumbent, is being challenged by Dale H. Scott, of Campbell, a member of the Campbell Planning Commission, and Holmes F. Crouch.

STATE LEVEL

On the State level, Ronald Reagan and Ed Reinecke, are unopposed for reelection for governor and lieutenant governor, respectively, but the Democratic race for the nomination is something else.

There are actually 10 Democrats running for the nomination for governor. But the race for the nomination is conceded to be between Jess Unruh, former speaker of the assembly, and Sam Yorty, mayor of Los Angeles.

State Senator Al Alquist, of Santa Clara County, seems pretty assured of the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Two Democrats, Charles O'Brien, chief deputy attorney general, and Walter Culpepper are in the race for attorney general.

Four Republicans, including Spencer Williams, former Santa Clara County counsel, are trying for the GOP nomination. Evelle J. Younger, L.A. district attorney; and two state senators, George Deukmejian and John L. Harmer are the other Reps.

In the secretary of state contest, George W. Milias and Mrs. Alberta Jordan, widow of the late secretary of state, appear to be the leading Republican contenders (there are seven) with Edmund G. Brown, Jr. (son of the former governor and State Senator Hugh Burns as the top DEM candidates.

Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest is unopposed on the Republican ticket for state treasurer but there are four Democrats in the race.

Houston I. Flournoy is being challenged for state controller on the GOP slate by James A. Ware. Three Dems, Ronald Brooks Cameron, John R. Dean and Herman Sileas, are on the ballot.

Nine candidates are on the ballot for the non-partisan job of school superintendent. Dr. Max Rafferty is seeking reelection with Wilson Riles, deputy state superintendent, expected to give him the closest battle.

U. S. Senator George Murphy is being challenged on the Republican ticket by Norton Simon, a southland millionaire. Another GOP candidate is Robert R. Barry, an ex-congressman of Riverside.

On the Democratic side, two congressmen, George E. Brown, Jr., of Monterey Park and John V. Tunney, of Riverside and a Los Angeles County supervisor, Kenneth Hahn, are battling for the opportunity to fact Murphy in November.

Volunteer civic groups plant trees

West Valley College; San Jose State; Castro Junior High; Fischer Junior High and St. Lucy's were active participants.

"Delegates" were on hand also from six youth groups: L.D.S. Church; St. Lucy's Youth Council; Campbell Youth Commission; Campbell-Moreland Pony League; Petal Pushers and Tarnation Carnations.

And adult organizations were well represented in the mammoth landscaping project. These included such diversified groups as the Campbell CofC; Kiwanis Club; Rotary Club; Campbell JayCees and JayCettes; Rincon Homeowners; Sierra Club, Bank of America.

West Valley Senior Action Center; Campbell Parks and Recreation Commission; Campbell Garden Club; Country Woman's Club; Campbell City Council; Campbell Citizens for Beautification; West Valley Federated Women's Club; San Tomas Market and the city manager's office.

Present also were Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens and James Pott, county public works director and many citizens just representing themselves.

The project was well-organized by the leaders who, in addition to Mrs. Watson, included Mrs. Jeanne Kennedy; Carl Kuhn, assistant to the city manager; Rusty Hammer, chairman of the Youth Commission and Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

County personnel, under the direction of Pott, were on hand for traffic control chores (an important phase along the busy expressway) and county crews kept the trucks rolling loaded with trees and shrubs during the two-hour period of action.

County crews wound up the day's activities with the water trucks.

The Press asked Mrs. Watson to summarize the day's activities.

Here is Jeanette's report:

"It will be my pleasure and privilege to help plant trees" stated senior citizen Mrs. Kahn in response to pleas for help in landscaping the San Tomas Expressway. "We should do more of this" said a student from San Jose State.

"What a friendly group of people" commended one of the nuns who participated, and so it went on Saturday morning as one thousand trees were planted in just a little over an hour."

"Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens was on hand with his shovel and Santa Clara County Director James Pott came in response to a personal invitation from the Beautification Committee.

"Many young people were present, thanks to the efforts of the Campbell High Ecology Club and its energetic faculty advisor, Don Armistead. The Blackford High School Biology Club was much in evidence.

"St. Lucy's Youth Council under the direction of Jim and Alice Phillips were present with one of the largest groups which included their president, Bob Clarke. The L.D.S. Church also had a fine group of young people present.

"Jeanne Kennedy, active Beautification member, brought members of the Rincon Homeowners Association. Frank Kukuk cracked the whip on fellow Kiwanians and Don Callahan did likewise for the Rotarians. Lilyan Brannon worked right with her Tarnation Carnation youth group.

"One of the big surprises of the quick hour and few minutes came in the form of pleasant faces with big smiles belonging to the owners of the San Tomas Market, who drove along the expressway and handed out soft drinks to the workers. It was a complete surprise to Jeanette Watson, chairman, and a most welcome one as the sun was bearing down on the hardworking planters.

"Members of the County Department of Public Works who were on hand commended the group of planters for the fine job they did. They followed instructions and stayed off the freeway, although at times the work actually brought them very close to the swiftly moving cars.

"This was the largest and most diversified group of people with whom I've worked.

"Although many youth and adults present represented organized groups, a lot of the workers were just people--from Planet Earth--as one individual put it.

"We had a worker from as far away as San Francisco. To me, these are the people who care about tomorrow.

"The people who participated are ALIVE. They care not only for themselves, but for others, and in giving of themselves, they have given hope for a better tomorrow. I am pleased and proud to have worked with such a great group of people."

Campbell crimes net thieves cool air and food

In Campbell two separate crimes netted burglars a freezer full of food and an air conditioner to beat the heat.

On Thursday evening, May 21, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Richardson, 675 Harriet Ave., went to sleep, leaving their garage door open for their son. When he arrived home later in the evening their up-right freezer, full of frozen food valued at $575, had been removed from the garage, leaving no trace. A dolly was apparently used to facilitate the removal.

The heat spell over the weekend found the San Jose Hitch and Welding Co., 783 E. Hamilton Ave. without an air conditioner, after the place of business was entered and the single item removed. According to Norman L. Rowppet, owner, the two parts of the mobile home air unit was located in two different places and was valued at $450.

Martin Service Station, 851 E. Hamilton Ave., lost $50 when an old car pulled into the business during the late business hours. A man with a nylon stocking pulled over his face, brandished a knife and demanded money. Doug Walkerling, attendant, handed over the funds and the car drove off.

Feather River tour recalls historical mining background

FEATHER RIVER TOUR

History began for California's Feather River in 1817, when Captain Luis Arguello led an exploring party up its valley. Because he saw numerous wildfowl feathers floating on the water, he called it "Rio de las Plumas," "plumas" being Spanish for feathers.

Like many another region of the state, it was miners of the Gold Rush times, seeking out every stream and bar where treasure might be found who made the first real penetration of the mountains of the Feather River Canyon some 30 years later.

They found the gold at such places as Rich Bar, Indian Bar, Smith's Bar and Elizabethtown, mostly mere placenames on old maps now, but all serving to recall that the whole watershed of the Feather was rich in gold.

Today, the gold mining is but a memory as the old but a memory as are the old mining towns, and the old stage and horse trail is now a modern highway that travels at virtual water-level up the canyon of the Feather. The portion of it between Oroville and the crest of the Sierra Nevada is one of the most spnia, reports the California State Automobile Association.

All the way up through the canyon, the highway and the Western Pacific Railroad play leapfrog at the river crossings. The railroad was built first (1909) and naturally was laid out on the best alignment. At one point the highway bridge is directly over the railroad bridge, the two forming an "X". The canyon is so deep and sheer in places that roadbuilders had to be lowered on ropes to drill and blast out a right-of-way for this scenic motor route. Arch Rock and Elephant Butte tunnels run through granite cliffs that drop steeply to the river's edge.

Settlements are few and small along the Feather River Canyon until one reaches Quincy, the county seat of Plumas County.

Autumn camping on the Feather offers bright fall colors, uncrowded campgrounds and late season trout fishing. One particular area to find this is off SR 70 about two miles east of Belden along the improved Prattville-Butt Reservoir Road toward the Caribou Power House. Three forest service campgrounds offer canyon visitors a good selection of campsites with tables, benches, and stoves and each is located close to piped water and sanitary facilities.

A short side road leads off the Feather to the Rich Bar Monument. Here in gold rush days, miners were limited to forty square feet of area because of the rich claims. One story tells of miners taking as much as $1,500 from one pan of dirt. Only an occasional miner may be seen today at the site of the original town.

Summertime along the Feather is an invitation to stop and take a swim in the many long pools and small rapids that are easily seen from your car.

Whether you're traveling the Feather River Highway (SR 70) in the hubbub of summer, during the colorful autumn with its display of many colored leaves or the clear, cold days of winter, the Feather River Country is always inviting you to share in her high, wide and wonderful land.

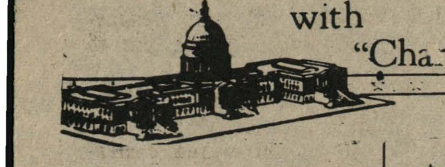
ON CAPITOL HILL



with "Charlie" Gubser

For the better part of two decades, Americans have shown amazing tenacity in their efforts to improve education because they believe quality education is most likely to hold the answers to the problems which plague our society.

As a result our people have endorsed a much heavier involvement by the federal government in the education process which for so long was exclusively the concern of local government. Federal expenditures to aid local schools have expanded at a faster rate than most government activity and there is little doubt that the trend will continue.

In looking to the future, one facet of President Nixon's special message to Congress on primary and secondary education deserves serious consideration. That is his proposal to create a National Institute of Education which would conduct experiments and studies aimed at evaluating present teaching techniques and programs and developing superior new ones.

Anyone who is familiar with the National Institutes of Health knows of its great contributions made to medical science. I have heard private hospital administrators and doctors laud the Institutes in glowing terms. They do not view it as a competitive organization but rather as an ally in improving medical science. The National Institute of Education could serve the same purpose.

Clearly the time has come when we must take a hard look at the question of whether our education dollar is being wisely spent. No one challenges the statement that we need more education, but not enough thought has been given to the quality of education.

Recently the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, which established the desirable goal of providing universal higher education, pointed up the fact that achievement of this goal would require remedial education at the college level in order to make up for inadequacies at the primary and secondary levels.

Admittedly there are large pockets of inferior education which exist today. If we are candid with ourselves we must admit that today's remedial programs, like Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and Project Head Start, have constituted a beginning but have by no means provided satisfactory results at this point in time.

Militant professional educators like George D. Fischer, President of the National Education Association, have labeled the present administration's plans for education as a proposal to shrink even further the federal role in school financing."

Moorpark school dedicates Friendship and Understanding mosaic

A crowd of over 350 people were in attendance Tuesday evening, May 19, to witness the unveiling of Moorpark School's giant mosaic entitled "Friendship and Understanding".

The mosaic is the result of a year-long project which saw every child in the school and many of the parents involved in its construction. The mosaic was constructed with materials donated by various companies in the area and is 96 square feet in surface. Included in its make-up are three gallons of mastic, 60 pounds of grout and over 14,000 pieces of tile.

The theme, "Friendship and Understanding" was chosen by the Student Council and is depicted visually by the various races of children playing and working in harmony.

Honored guests at the dedication ceremony were James Gilliland and Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, Campbell Union School Board of Trustee members; Bob Stephens, Campbell city manager; Jim D'Avis, assistant superintendent; Rev. Phillip Angove, pastor, Roselawn Methodist Church; Mrs. Louise Riley, PTA president; Mrs. Judy Christenson; PTA past president; Mrs. Marsha Wells, Campbell Union School District art consultant.

Master of ceremonies was David Gillies, Moorpark School principal.

The entire Moorpark Student Council and its chairman, Karen Bowman, participated in the ceremony.

HORSESHOE

Verdan Zelmer of Campbell will be one of the leading challengers playing in the annual Golden Gate Horseshoe Pitching Classic to be held Saturday, May 30 and Sunday, May 31.

All horseshoe pitching enthusiasts are invited to attend this outstanding sporting event. There is no admission fee for the general public, which will be held at the Golden Gate Park in San Francisco.

Del Mar Dateline

By Kathy Praisewater

Del Mar's annual student government day was held on May 18. The students selected by Mr. Miskulin and their positions were: John Fischer, principal; Jan Heimann, vice principal; Chuck Slyngstad, dean of boys; Mary Ann Chalmers, freshman counselor; Cindy Brooks, sophomore counselor; Gary Ichikawa, junior counselor, Dennis Padilla, director of activities; Earl Poytress, librarian, and Marcy Ross, dean of girls. Each student spent the day with the administrator and were later treated to lunch.

This year's Sports Day will be held Thursday, May 28 after second lunch in the plaza and pool area. Events include: Push Cart Race, Platform Pile-Up, Tug-of-War, Piggy Back Relay, Pyramid Building Contest, Water Polo, Sweatshirt Relay, Greased Watermelon Contest, Volleyball and the Olympic Relay.

The 1970-71 lettergirls are Jan Alessio, Melinda Durrer, Marilyn Galor, Cindy Harrell, Terry Kanala, Julie La Mar, Lyn Lundquist, Shirley Mercurio, Shelly Muntz, Joy Patapoff, Brenda Skovmand and Blanche Weber with Diane Heck as first alternate and Sally Watson as second alternate.

Del Mar swimmers traveled to Foothill College for the Central Coast Section Championships and returned with unexpected medals and records. The Varsity 200 yard medley relay, consisting of Eric Johnson, John Shilling, Ken Thomas and Earl Poytress, placed fifth with a time of 1:43.3. - a drop of over three seconds from their time posted during league finals. It has been submitted for possible All-American rating.

Sophomore John Shilling placed second in the Varsity 100 yard breaststroke with a time of 1:00.6. John's time is the third fastest time in the nation and has gained him automatic All-American honors.

In the Frosh-Soph division Fred Brandt became D.M.'s first C.C.S. diving champion capturing the blue ribboned medal with 289.45 points.

Two school records were also broken. Earl Poytress in the Varsity 100 yard freestyle (50.8) and Charles Porter in the Frosh-Soph 200 yard.

Sandas challenges local clam eaters

How many steamed clams can you eat? Pete Sandas, owner of the Silver Coach Restaurant, is ready to challenge anyone that he can eat more clams than anyone else. He is ready to meet any and all comers Saturday, June 6, at the Silver Coach, from 1 to 4 p.m.

At that time Dave Merrifield, chef of the restaurant, will stand ready to cook up all the clams you can eat. For a $6 entry fee each contestant will be furnished all the steamed clams he or she can eat and cold white wine to wash them down.

Contestants will be seated one to a table, and a count of the clam shells will give the final results. Trophys will be given for first place winners and second and third place winners will also be reconized.

Don Fleichman, a local realtor, has already publicly stated that he can beat Sandas and Joey DeLong is signed up in the women's division and will challenge all comers.

Each contestant may bring as many backers as they like to cheer them on, and a winner will be declared at 4 p.m., Saturday, June 6.

And—just for the record—Sandas is a "200 Clam" man.

Can you beat that?

West Valley Sports

SUMMER PROGRAM

With a host of talented cagers on hand, West Valley College is preparing to sponsor its third annual summer basketball program, according to WVC head basketball Coach Larry Jennings.

All men of junior college age living in the West Valley College district are eligible to compete and should contact the WVC athletic office before June 1. Outstanding prepsters from the area have also been invited to play.

Byron Woodhead, Rick Menden and Joe Gallagher, 1970 Valley hoopsters, head the list of outstanding summer talent. Former WVC player Rod Otto, Leigh center Bill Scott and Buchser product Randy Johnson will also don basketball uniforms in the Vikings summer league.

First half play will begin on June 23 with the second half commencing on July 16. A championship play-off will be held on August 11 and 13. All games will be on Tuesday and Thursday.

STATE FIFTH

Dan Cruz was the only West Valley College trackster to place at last weekend's California State Track and Field Championships as he rambled to a fifth in the mile run clocked at 4:17 while WVC finished down in the ranks in the team standings.

The winning time in the mile event was 4:11. One week earlier Cruz circled the track four times at 4:12 at the Northern California title meet while breaking the school record in the event.

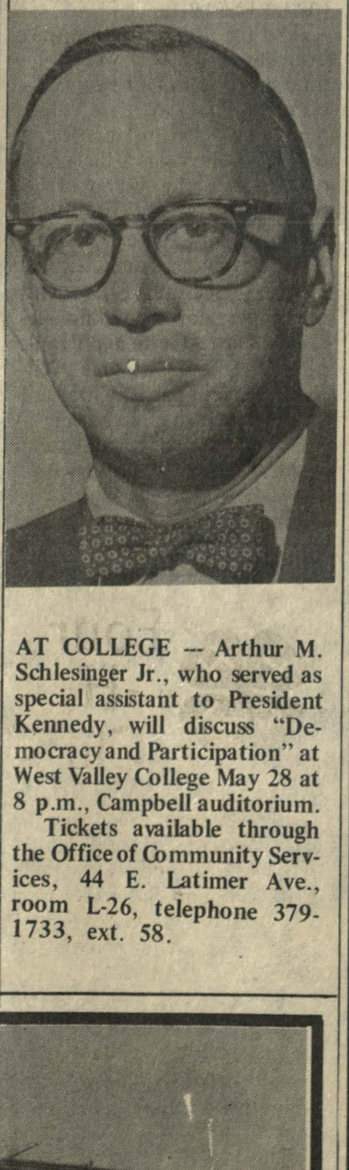
The Valley 440 relay team of Larry Orlando, Lance Anderson, running in lane one, ended out of the money after sprinting to a fourth a week earlier at NorCal.

VALLEY FENCERS

West Valley College surprised all participants in the recent junior college fencing championships at the College of San Mateo as the Campbellites' women stabbed a second place finishing and the men a third place showing.

In the tourney where everyone fences everyone else, Ace England and Steve Johnson finished high for WVC in the individual ranks while Pat Smidt and Patti Scott sparked the Viking women. Other Valley fencers included women, Sheri Boots and Judy Reyes and men, Brent Miller and Mike Dyer.

Janet Ladd, Jerry Hernandez, Tom Holt, Mike Bell and Kathy Wayne, beginners in fencing competition for WVC, recently participated in the Stanford hosted Northern California Intercollegiate Fencing Association Novice Tournament. Ladd and Holt posted fine preliminary marks of 4-1 each while Wayne brought in a commendable 2-2 effort. All three advanced to the semi-finals where Ladd and Holt each ended 2-3.



AT COLLEGE — Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., who served as special assistant to President Kennedy, will discuss "Democracy and Participation" at West Valley College May 28 at 8 p.m., Campbell auditorium.

Tickets available through the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

OPTIMISTS RODEO — Team roping, an event that requires precision and timing by both participants, will be one of the attractions during the rodeo to be sponsored by the Optimist Clubs of this area and the Golden State Rodeo Company at 2:30 p.m. May 30 and 31 at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds arena. Proceeds will be used to send boys from this area to the Optimists' summer boys camp near La Honda.

Former Campbell students graduate in Honolulu

Two former students of Campbell's West Valley Seventh-day Adventist grammar school class of 1966, Jackie Smith and John Jones, will be receiving their high school diplomas in Hawaii at the Hawaiian Mission Academy of the Seventh-day Adventist high school in Honolulu.

One of the teachers of the high school is Ross Hiatt, former West Valley Seventh-day Adventist school principal-teacher, who had Jackie and John as his pupils here.

The graduation ceremonies in Honolulu will be conducted in Hawaiian-style with the young ladies wearing white holokus and the gentlemen wearing white attire similar to that worn by Hawaiian royalty.

Jackie is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Los Gatos and John the son of Dr. and Mrs. James Jones of San Jose. Both families plan to attend the ceremonies.

HAWAIIAN GRADUATES-- John Jones and Jackie Smith are among the 42 seniors receiving their high school diplomas from the Hawaiian Mission Academy at the Waikiki Shell in Honolulu May 30. Both students formerly attended the Campbell West Valley Seventh-day Adventist School.

Acute accidental poisoning at home accounts for almost 1900 deaths in the United States annually.

To provide quality health care for every American, we need 52,000 additional physicians, 9,000 more dentists, and another 145,000 registered nurses. Your YES vote on Proposition 1 on June 2 will help toward that goal. Remember it WILL NOT increase your property tax.

Salvador's plan family reunion

June 3 will be a big day in the Joe Salvador family. A family reunion and two wedding anniversaries are scheduled, with the senior Salvador's, owners of Railway Builders Supply, Inc., observing their 47th and the Renalds Salvador's their 10th.

Coming from Alabama for the occasion is Major and Mrs. Renalds Dean Salvador and their four little boys. Major Salvador is assigned to Headquarters, Air University in the Directorate of Manpower and Organization, and will be in California on leave for several weeks.

From New Jersey will be Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bombacci, a granddaughter. Others present will be the other two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Salvador and Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Salvador and their five children and another granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith and their two children, of Williams. A dinner party is being planned for the occasion.

CETA announces scholarship

Presentation of a $250 scholarship was made Wednesday, May 27, to Merrillyn Curtis, 679 Bundy Ave., by the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association.

Merrillyn attended Lynhaven and Cypress schools and was graduated from Blackford High School in 1967. She is now attending West Valley College and will be enrolled at San Jose State next year for her junior year, where she will continue her studies to be an educator.

The presentation was made by Mrs. David MacLeod, chairman of the scholarship selection committee, at an awards assembly held at the Saratoga campus, West Valley College. A student is selected each year to receive the scholarship and must be from Campbell district schools, attending West Valley College, and planning to become a teacher.

DAKOTA CLUB

The Dakota Club will meet June 1 at 6:30 p.m. for a potluck dinner at the Stone Church, Lincoln and Clark Way. After the business meeting, games and fellowship will be enjoyed. All former Dakotans are welcome.

ACADEMIC HONORS

Richard Todd, son of Robert Todd, 1322 McBain, and Barbara J. Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kelley, 288 S. Christopher, have both won academic honors at Seattle Pacific College. Both students are juniors, Barbara with an English major and Richard with a chemistry major.

Mrs. Gleed retires as food district supervisor

Mrs. Eleanor Gleed was the honoree recently at a lovely dinner held at Zorba's restaurant on the occasion of her retirement as Campbell Union High School District cafeteria supervisor.

Mrs. Gleed has been with the district for 23 years, starting as a PTA volunteer in the old Campbell High School when there was only one school in the district with 500 students. At that time there was no cafeteria service for students attending high school and members of the PTA organized a hot lunch program.

Later the cafeteria was opened on a paid basis and Mrs. Gleed was employed. Her memories include working in a temporary structure with the rain falling through the cracks, being shifted from one place to another, make-shift equipment, and finally the modern, up-to-date cafeterias now in all of the schools, with eight high schools in the district.

At the dinner, which was attended by 125 guests, Mrs. Gleed was presented with a monetary gift from her friends in the district with Dr. Nick Montasano, Campbell Union High School District superintendent, making the presentation.

Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Lawrence J. Hill, recently retired district superintendent, under whom Mrs. Gleed worked for 22 years.

MRS. ELEANOR GLEED

Present for the occasion were Mrs. Gleed's sons Richard and George and a nephew Bob Lloyd. Mrs. Gleed has lived in Campbell since 1941 and raised her sons while living on North Harrison Ave. She now has seven grandchildren. Retirement plans include a trip to Europe after her house is sold.

Taking her place as cafeteria supervisor is Elton Admire, former Campbell Community Hospital administrator.

CWC presents Eola Howe art awards June 1

Country Woman's Club of Campbell members will hold their last meeting of the year Monday, June 1, at the clubhouse on First and Campbell avenues. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon followed by the business meeting at which time the Eola Howe art awards will be presented.

Fifteen art awards in five different categories will be made, with three awards in each category.

During the afternoon Mrs. Courtland Watson will conduct installation of new officers with Mrs. Lawrence Tobar being installed as president for the new year. Other new officers for the year will be Mesdames Everett Grell, first vice-president; Glen Dubois, second vice-president; Elmer Hoerler, secretary; Dorothy Messinger, corresponding secretary; Harry Gerin and Frank Meiss, directors-at-large, William Cave, parliamentarian, and C. K. Gerber, treasurer.

Chairman for the afternoon is Mrs. Harry Todd, assisted by Mesdames C. W. Shockley, Frank Jacobsen and D. W. Allison.

Four -H Club

The Campbell 4-H Club is well launched on their community pride project with a workday held Saturday, May 16 at the Los Gatos Creek Park along the percolation ponds.

Weeds were pulled, gravel spread in picnic areas and bushes trimmed with parents, 4-H members and future 4-H members all pitching in to get the work done. Pictures were taken by Paul Steward, a 4-H friend, donated film, cokes and candy for the eager workers.

Hoes, shovels, rakes and lots of enthusiasm resulted in improvements to the park and generated civic pride in the workers.

ERICA SARGENT

Wedding Date Set

During a family dinner in their San Jose home, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Talley announced the engagement of their daughter Erica Lee Sargent and Kenneth John Ferioli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Ferioli of San Luis Obispo.

An alumna of Blackford High School and Campbell Beauty College, Miss Sargent is employed by V.I.P. Coiffures in Campbell.

Her fiance, an alumnus of Blackford High School, is attending Cal Poly as a Business Administration major.

The young couple has set August 29 as the date of their wedding.

Capri School holds recent bike rodeo

Fun was had by adults and children alike at the First Bike Rodeo sponsored by Capri Home and School Club. Entrants were judged by club members on safety and maneuverability. There were six divisions broken down by grade and boy or girl. First and second prizes were awarded in each division, with a possible score of 550.

Division winners included, kindergarten and second grade; Brian Jones, Ricky Lee, Anita Ledingham and Shelly Wedel. In the third to fourth grade division winners were Brad Friar, Dennis Roberson, Kelly O'Neil and Lori Lewis. In the fifth and sixth grade division Ed Space, Rob Kinkaid and Brenda Baker each placed. Highest scorer was Brad Friar with a score of 543.

Chairman Nate Dardanelli presented each child with a ribbon and a prize. Prizes of handlebar grips and reflectors were donated by Wheel-Away Bike Center on Hamilton Ave.

LAWYERS' WIVES

Mrs. William R. Dok of Campbell is in charge of reservations for the June 3 luncheon meeting of the Lawyers' Wives of Santa Clara County. The social hour will start at 11:30 a.m. at the residence of Mrs. Manny Gomez of Saratoga with luncheon being served at 12:15.

During the meeting the new officers for the year will be installed.

HONORED

William K. McLain of 401 Queens Court, was accorded the honor of being added to the Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies' Sales Hall of Fame recently. The award is made annually to those who place in the top ten percent of Liberty Mutual salesmen throughout the nation.

LEADERSHIP,
NOT LAWLESSNESS

If you've bothered to take a look at the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Department lately, you would find it's not getting the job done.

In an era of increasing crime and violence in our streets and on our campuses, your Sheriff's Office lacks the leadership to combat crime in one of America's fastest growing counties.

It's time for a new look and approach to effective law enforcement in our county.

Sam Della Maggiore, former teacher, athletic coach and governmental leader, has the administrative experience, leadership qualities and offers positive, aggressive programs to improve the department and solve many of our major law enforcement problems.

Here's an action start offered by Della Maggiore, former San Jose State College Police School instructor and long active in area youth programs:

- Narcotics Coordinator to Organize and Coordinate Drug Education Programs of County Sheriff, Health and Schools Departments
- Restore Morale in the Sheriff's Office
- Establish Program of Communication Between the Sheriff's Department and Other Law Enforcement Agencies
- Improve Community Relations Between Sheriff's Personnel and the Community
- Overhaul the County Jail System
- Construct County Alcoholics Rehabilitation Facility
- Build Constructive Youth Programs
- Strict Observance of Constitutional Rights

NORMALLY DRAPERIES DO NOT WEAR OUT

They are burned by the sun, faded by atmospheric gases, cut and worn by imbedded soil. These damaging particles are removed by our deep bath cleansing method which gently agitates the soil loose from the draperies — stopping this damage and restoring the color and original feel of the fabric, giving your draperies new life and longer life.

You'll be amazed at the difference!

COMPLETELY GUARANTEED OR 100% REPLACEMENT

Lynhaven School offers children class choice

A unique elective program for fourth, fifth and sixth grade students is in progress at Lynhaven School in the Campbell Union School District. The program is based on the premise that children need experience in making decisions prior to the departmentalized elective programs normally found at the seventh through high school level.

The Lynhaven program allows cross-grade-level courses geared to the interests of the children and taught by teachers in their areas of particular strength.

This year's elective program is set up for an hour per week for eight sessions, April 9 through May 28. Courses offered are Geology, Life Saving, Art, Story-telling, The Joy of Cooking, Cartooning, Hawaiian Folk Lore and Drafting.

Miss Kathryn Merry, Lynhaven principal, reports that evaluations of this elective program by students, faculty and parents last year were so positive that the Lynhaven faculty decided to offer the program again this year with a new selection of courses, once again geared to the interests of the children.

Both primary and intermediate teachers teach these courses at Lynhaven, Each instructor writes an ad for his course describing the content. Faculty assignments are not announced prior to the children's selection of courses. Courses are chosen by the students based on specific interest in the courses and the teachers' ability to motivate children to select specific courses through these ads.

Lynhaven was given recognition for this program when it was presented at the May conference of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) as an innovative approach to learning in the field of elective programming in the elementary school.

Food Co From Eve

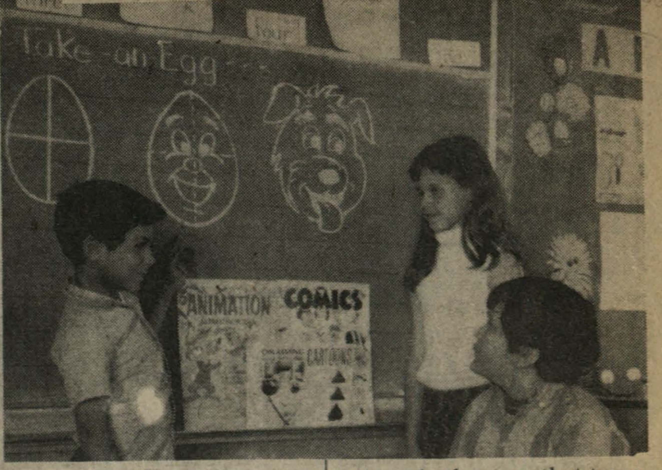
FIRST COME THE PLANS---Before a bachelor pad or a tree house can be constructed plans must be drawn. And drafting is the basic step of the plans. At Lynhaven School, Mrs. Eleanor Sage shows the drafting class some of the basic principles of transmitting ideas to paper. Seated, l. to r., are Mike Marchello, Anthony Saracino, Richard Lopes, Stuart Ishimaru, Doug Rohrbach, Bernard Ciarlo. Standing l. to r., are Robert Nardone, Jan Allen, Mrs. Sage and Wayne Haraguchi.

THE WONDERS OF THE WORLD---Lorie Young, Heidi Jaeger, George Wadley, teacher; Paige Harris, Sid Harris and Scott Pimentel study rocks and rock formation in the geology class held in the Lynhaven School elective class.



HOW CARTOONS ARE MADE -- Danny Machado, Gayleen Reville and John Salazar study the steps that transform simple shapes into cartoons at Lynhaven School.

SUMMER COURSE

Fifty high school juniors will be attending West Valley College this summer, sponsored by the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Students from the school districts comprising the West Valley Junior College District will be attending eight weeks of summer school to acquaint them with course offerings and life at a community college.

The first week of school will be devoted to orientation of the students prior to the opening of classes June 22. This will be followed by six weeks of instruction in the college's regular summer session classes, while the eighth week will be devoted to an evaluation of the program with the students involved.

POLITICAL FORUM

A political forum for Republican candidates for the 22nd, 24th and 25th Assembly District will be sponsored by the Los Gatos Republican Women, Federated and West Valley Republican Women Thursday, May 28 at the Christian Church, 17765 Daves Ave., Los Gatos.

The forum will start at 9 a.m. and refreshments will be served. Hostesses for the affair will be Mesdames Bruce Allen, Helen Cunningham, Kay Hastings and William G. Taylor, president of the Los Gatos Republican Women.

Letters to the Editor

FAVORS MEASURES

Dear Editor,

If both the tax increases for Campbell Union School District and Proposition 8 fail to pass Tuesday, June 2, the schools will have to reduce or eliminate some items. Most likely would be the reduction of maintenance and the freezing of teacher salaries.

If either the tax increase or Proposition 8 passes there would probably be no change in services. In addition, cost-of-living increases could be granted to teachers and administrators.

If both pass, the same is true. Also, some or all of the authorized tax increase probably would not be levied...in fact, the tax rate might even go down.

I have read the arguments for and against the tax increase mailed to me with my sample ballot. The argument for the measure looks OK to me but the argument against it appears to be misleading.

For example, one might be lead to believe that a number of teachers make $10 per hour. It's possible none do. Perhaps one teacher earns that much if he works only eight hours a day. Many teachers work more than eight hours per day. Each "startling" statement should be rebutted to be put in its proper perspective.

It is interesting to note that only one signer of the argument against the tax increase lives in the school district!

I personally feel that our teachers are doing a good job and do not deserve to have their salaries frozen. I will vote for both the tax increase and Proposition 8, hoping that at least one measure will pass. I hope others who feel as I do will be sure to vote; by staying home, we permit the few who oppose the measures to defeat them.

Sincerely,
George P. Baker, Jr.

THANK YOU

Dear Mr. Vierhus and staff,

This letter of thanks is long overdue, but the English language leaves a lot to be desired when it comes to fulfilling what's in one's heart.

When I received the Campbell Press award for Mother of the Year, I felt very undeserving, but now I look at it as a goal to be reached. I thank you for this, because as a mother, I know that goals can be forgotten easily. This, I shall never forget!

I would like to thank Mrs. Clever and Mrs. Hess, who gave several hours of their Mothers Day to take pictures of my family, also to your staff who showed much warmth and courtesy at a time when I needed this.

Last, but not least, thanks to my supporters, most of them being my High School students who proved how unselfish and loving their generation really is.

Sincerely,
Alice Phillips

County holds pre-school clinic May 29

A west valley pre-school screening clinic sponsored by the Santa Clara County Health Department will be held on May 29 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the American Red Cross building, 18011 Saratoga-Los Gatos Rd., Los Gatos.

The clinic will be held for those children entering elementary school for the first time in the fall. The clinic is designed primarily for children whose parents cannot afford private medical care. Clinic services will include hearing, vision and blood screening and if needed, a physical examination will be given.

The child must be accompanied by a parent and the parent is requested to phone ahead if they desire an examination. All services are free.

For more information please call Mrs. Dorothea Melby, Public Health Nurse, at 354-8330.

GRADUATES

Master Sergeant James Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ceil H. Hill of 1486 Parson Ave., Campbell, has graduated from the U. S. Air Force Noncommissioned Officer Academy at Norton AFB, Calif.

The sergeant, a flight engineer, received advanced military leadership and management training. He is assigned at Forbes AFB, Kan.

Dr. and Mrs. Hall honored at recent reception

ON EVE OF RETIREMENT--Dr. Wallace W. Hall, West Valley College president, left, and Mrs. Hall, center, was presented with leis flown from Hawaii on the occasion of his retirement dinner held recently at The Little New Yorker. With them is Mrs. Alice Greer of Berkeley who was responsible for getting Dr. Hall his first job at Coalinga College in 1935.

Over 550 friends and colleagues gathered at the Little New Yorker in Santa Clara recently to honor West Valley College's retiring superintendent/president, Dr. Wallace W. Hall.

Among the many Campbell residents present to greet Dr. and Mrs. Hall were Mayor and Mrs. Dean Chamberlin, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Watson, the Robert Brydons, the James Schafers, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutter, and Robert Bullard, Campbell Chamber of Commerce president who presented Dr. Hall with a plaque on behalf of the good relationship enjoyed by the Campbell community and the college.

Dr. Hall will leave his duties July 1 when James P. Hardy, current assistant superintendent and dean of business services, assumes the position.

Hall's long service to education was outlined by keynote speaker Dr. Richard Foster, superintendent of Berkeley Unified School District. The two men worked together nearly 30 years ago in southern California.

A color TV was presented to Dr. and Mrs. Hall and the students have dedicated the student union on the Saratoga campus "The Hall" in his honor.

KIWANIS

Ken Mantle has been elected president of the Campbell Kiwanis for the new year. Serving with Mantle will be Tom State, vice-president, and Mike Ivicevich, treasurer. Directors elected included Phil Baker, Rex Jeffers, Karl Marshall, Lloyd Nelson, Fred Peterson, Bob Stephens and Ralph Weymouth.

Johnson receives trophy as best CCT season actor

Karl Johnson of Campbell High School, received the trophy as the best actor in the 12 years and up category in the Cabrini Community Theater for his portrayal of the title role in the CCT production of Don Quixote. The trophy winners were announced at a potluck dessert recognition night at the Cabrini Theater, 4735 Camden Ave.

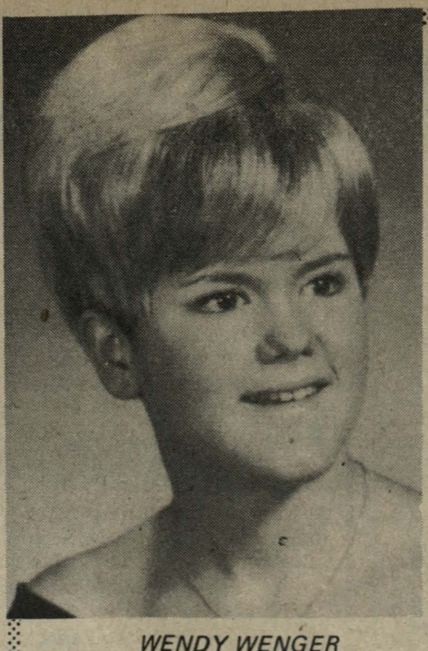
Mark Healy took top honors of the night and received, as outstanding performer of the year, a standing ovation from the more than 180 performers who participated in the seven productions produced last year. The theater is directed by John P. Healy, Jr.

Further information on the summer productions may be had by calling Healy at 371-0232.

Young musicians form orchestra

Plans for the formation of a young community orchestra made up of talented youngsters in the Campbell, Cambrian and Los Gatos-Saratoga areas have been announced by the orchestra's manager, Bart Snyder, local violinist and teacher. The orchestra would run in conjunction this summer with the Cabrini Community Theater, accompanying their shows, and then blossom out as a young people's symphony. Co-conductors of the orchestra will be John P. Healy, Jr., a musical theater major and cellist from Stanford, and Patricia Healy, a violinist from the College of Notre Dame at Belmont, Calif.

The first meeting of interested musicians, including strings, woodwinds, brass and percussion will be Saturday, June 6 at 7:30 in room 204 of Dartmouth Jr. High.



WENDY WENGER

Betrothal Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Wenger of 84 LaVonne Drive held a champagne buffet at their home recently on the occasion of the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Wendy Onette, to Ronald Gene Coffelt.

Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Coffelt of San Jose.

Wendy, a Campbell High School graduate of 1969, has just completed her freshman year at Chico State College. While in high school she was an honor society member for four years and plans on being a teacher.

Her fiance graduated from Overfelt High School and has just completed his tour of duty with the Army which included overseas service in Germany.

No date has been set for the wedding of the young couple.

"The state must bear a fair share and larger share of the school cost. It must bring relief to the property taxpayer in so doing..."

—Excerpt from a speech by GOVERNOR RONALD REAGAN
Sacramento, January 11, 1967

This is what Proposition 8 does

☐ It restores "the historic 50-50 ratio" for state and local financing of public schools, which Governor Reagan said, in the same speech, "I hope that we will be able to restore."

☐ It requires the state to finance 90 per cent of the state and local cost of welfare.

☐ Proposition 8 significantly reduces the burden on property taxpayers in so doing, and grants additional property tax relief by increasing the present homeowners' exemption from $750 to $1000.

☐ Proposition 8 protects property taxpayers in the future by requiring the state to pay for all new county programs forced on the counties by the legislature and at least 50 per cent of the cost of all new school programs forced on local districts by the legislature.

☐ Proposition 8 makes better educational opportunity available—from non-property tax sources—for school students in every district in California.

For PROPERTY TAX RELIEF–NOW
For BETTER SCHOOLS–NOW

Vote YES on Proposition 8

AT THE SAME TIME, VOTE YES ON 7

Hundreds of school building projects, already approved by the people, are held up because the state can't sell its bonds—under existing restrictions in today's bond market. Proposition 7 enables the state to continue its efficient bond marketing program in order to build schools, provide for veterans housing, beaches and parks, flood control and water projects.

Old hardware building can stay up for five years more

For the next five years the old Nelson Bros. Hardware building at 275 E. Campbell Ave., occupied for the past three years by the business office of the Campbell Union High School District, will house a retail establishment.

The business office of the school district was moved to the district's new administration building adjacent to Camden High this week.

On Monday night the City Council approved the request of Milt and Clarence Nelson to extend the temporary use of the building for another five years.

Milt Nelson announced that Campbell Office Machines now located in Kirkwood Plaza would lease the structure for that period of time.

The previous three-year use (which expired on March 30) had been approved by the Council over the objections of fire and building department officials who maintained that the building did not meet all code requirements.

Councilman Ed Rogers thought the Council should have the benefit of the department's current rulings before acting on the request but City Manager Bob Stephens explained that probably the same conditions existed now as three years ago when the Council granted the three-year use. So the Council unanimously approved the extension.

In approving the five-year plan, the Council added the proviso that the owners should attempt to dress up the exterior with some sort of inexpensive but attractive siding. Nelson indicated that they would be willing to do that.

The Nelsons, in their request for the five-year extension, pointed out that the building would revert to the tax rolls, the retail business would add to the sales tax and would also help the downtown area. In five years, they added, the civic center would be established and the new street in and they then could build a new building that would conform to the area.

In other actions on Monday night, the Council agreed with the recommendation of the public works department that a traffic signal was not warranted at Pollard Road and More Ave. as requested by Rolling Hills School people. It was explained that the crossing, however, could be made safer by providing additional painted legends on the roadway.

Over the objection of Carl Bumpass, who reported that he was one of the instigators of the annexation on Smith Ave. in the San Tomas area, the Council gave first reading to the ordinance that would put the new R-M zoning on the eight lots in the annexation.

The Council followed the recommendation of the Planning Commission and Art Kee, planning director, in approving R-M. Bumpass said he felt a higher density zoning would be better.

Prior to the action on the pre-zoning of the annexation, the Council approved the new R-M zone modification which allows for a less density than R-D or R-2 on the properties but more than R-1.

The Council, after considerable discussion, decided to wait until Tuesday night (after press time) when the $80,000 issue of park bonds was to be sold before taking any final action on the request of the Campbell - Moreland Pony League for an additional $800 to complete the fieldhouse facility.

It was explained that all the available park bond money had been over-expended by previous allocations to the field. City Manager Stephens added also that the city's reserve fund was far from flush at the present time.

Pete Koojan, of the Pony League, told the Council that the league was in need of funds and that they seemed to have exhausted all their sources for financial aid other than the city.

The Council also approved the variance request of Tommy Blackmum of Campbell Floral for an extension of the building into the proposed plan for East Campbell Avenue. It was stipulated, however, that should the plan line ever be developed the new improvement would not be added to the cost of the building for condemnation purposes.

The Council deferred any action on the request of Felix Castellanos for additional payment above the $1500 contract he has with the city as acquisition agent for the city hall and library properties.

Still pending is the problem involving the Ray Stroppa property on North Harrison and the Council felt that the entire matter should be completed before acting on Castellanos' request. He had explained that he had expended an additional 69 hours on the library site project in the last four months totaling $862.50 at the $100 per day rate of his contract.

In a related matter, City Attorney Joe Bonacina received approval from the Council to obtain an additional appraiser, if needed, when the Stroppa case goes to court. He said that the preliminary court skirmishes would start on June 8.

The Council also approved the recommendations of City Manager Stephens in amending the present council policies affecting employee organizations and grievance procedures. Stephens said that the two unions now involving city personnel as well as the employees' association had agreed to the amendments. In a related matter, the Council approved payroll deduction for the newest city union, Operating Engineers, Local No. 3, involving corporation yard personnel.

Rash of residential conversion applications hit city planners

A newly - modified ordiance which allows residences to be converted into offices under special permits will get a real workout next Monday night, June 1, at the Planning Commission meeting.

Three conversion requests are on the agenda, for a total of five buildings.

Hans Zweig is asking that three residences at 905-915 and 925 Winchester Blvd. be converted into administrative and professional offices; Allen Sims wants a former single-family dwelling at 866 E. Campbell to be used for an office, as does Lawrence Pereira at 480 N. Harrison.

For some years the city ordinance prohibited these conversions but last year the ban was lifted to allow for the transformation in some special cases.

Six architectural approval requests are also on the agenda:

Ray Kanawyer has submitted plans for a 63-unit apartment at 220 Hollis.

Bernard Alter, owner of "The Yardstick" is asking for approval of a parking lot at 1058-1044 El Solyo.

R. C. Montgomery has plans for an extension of an office building at 480 McGlincey and Enid Monk wants to add to a four-unit apartment under construction at 166 Michael Drive.

Tommy Blackmum, of the Campbell Floral, has plans for a facade for the roof of his building (a variance was granted previously) and Robert Keesling is asking for approval of plans for the trailer storage park adjacent to the Hamilton Mobile Home Park.

Items continued from previous meetings on the agenda for next Monday include the pre-zoning of a proposed annexation along Winchester between Friar Way and Sunnyoaks. At the last meeting, residents in the Friar Way sector, an unincorporated "island", objected to the proposed zoning. They suggested that the area would be best suited for a park.

The long-deferred application of R&M Plastering for a contractor's storage yard at 293 Dillon Ave. (now in a P-D zone) is also on the agenda.

The application was originally filed when the area was under interim zoning.

The Commission is also expected to recommend specific zoning for the newly-created civic center zoning district and is slated to act on the parcel map submitted by Juarco for the properties at Winchester and Campbell on which a new service station is to be constructed.

County transportation unit to ask for new mass transit vote

A proposal for a County-wide mass transit vote at the Nov. 3 general election will go before the County's Transportation Policy Committee this Wednesday night (May 27).

The group will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Board of Supervisors Chambers, 70 W. Hedding St., to receive the report of its subcommittee on organization, finance and powers.

W. D. Weisgerber, the subcommittee chairman, commented, "The report is important because it faces up to the legal and financial requirements necessary to provide public transportation in the County."

He also said, "Building a public transit system is a job we have to do to save our county and it needs the proper tools to do the job."

If the full committee approves the report and it is accepted by the Board of Supervisors, voters would be asked again to approve Senate Bill 49. This would establish a county mass transit district. The bill was defeated at a September election.

However, the subcommittee suggests removing a 15-cent property tax rate from the bill before offering it to the voters again. The basic financing for the district would be a one-half cent sales tax.

The report also calls attention to possible state and federal funds to assist the district. At the subcommittee's last meeting Jerry Premo, urban transit technical studies director for the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT), reported that Congress may soon establish a $3.1 billion fund for local transit projects.

Weisgerber, the subcommittee chairman, also explained that the report gets into the comparative costs of roads and transit services.

Earl Lewis for SC County sheriff

Figuratively speaking, the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Department lies supine and passive, waiting, like Man in Michelangelo's famous painting on the Sistine Chapel ceiling, to be touched with life.

In the case of the sheriff's office, a re-creation is what staffers and citizens alike hunger for, for the department had one vibrant age under Sheriff Melvin L. Hawley from 1955-59. It was a time for reform, improvement, reorganization and innovation.

Since then, the department has plodded on, commanded by fairly able men but tending to mark time for lack of the imaginative leadership that creates true progress.

Hawley was an amateur at law enforcement — a Yale-educated attorney with integrity and insight. Now in private practice in Los Altos, Hawley says he couldn't have done a third as much as he did in his tenure without the operational aid of B. Earl (Lefty) Lewis in translating his ideas into practical, professional law enforcement action.

Lewis now is one of six candidates in the primary race to succeed Sheriff Charles Prelsnik, who is retiring. Several of his rivals are capable lawmen, and another, ex-Supervisor Sam Della Maggiore, is a tricky old hand at courthouse politics, if no police pro. The others have good qualities, but in our eyes Lewis stands tall above them.

His candidacy presents voters with a rare chance. For he is at once a police careerist with broad experience and interests, a man strongly concerned with the rights of individual citizens as well as the well-being of lawmen, and administrator with demonstrated ability to exert firm discipline and make positive changes, and a friendly human who labors very hard but avoids getting in ruts.

Lewis, 43, is on leave as director of law enforcement training at De Anza College in Cupertino, a post he has held for seven years. He is nearing completion of work on his doctorate in criminology from the University of California at Berkeley.

In all, he worked 13 years on the sheriff's staff, leaving as a captain, having been commander of the jail and corrections division and Hawley's prime implementer. His credits include two widely copied programs, the work furlough plan for jail inmates and nalline testing of narcotics probationers. He also helped design the present county jail and planned a revision of the department.

During a break in his sheriff's office service, Lewis joined the Los Angeles Police Department, where superiors marked him as a "comer" and gave him special training. He finally left the sheriff's staff to aid Hawley when the latter took the No. 2 spot in the Justice Department in Sacramento. There Lewis ironed out defects in the statewide teletype system, at big savings to taxpayers, and improved intelligence procedures.

In the Army Reserve, he holds the rank of lieutenant colonel. Various police agencies have hired him as a consultant; through UC he had a hand in the product of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice.

The sheriff's office not only needs new drive in the clean, effective execution of its regular operations. It also needs to improve contact work, supply leadership to all county police agencies and meet new challenges, such as calming campus disturbances.

Lewis is the most qualified man for this. His clear superiority moves us to endorse him early, even before the contenders spell out all their stands, in the hope that it will help him to survive the primary with a strong showing and to become Santa Clara County's next sheriff.

Paid for by the Committee To Elect Earl Lewis Sheriff.

Any young lady interested in joining the Air Force may inquire at 2275 Winchester Blvd.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 17
MOTHERS LIKE TEAS

Brownie Girl Scout Troop No. 761, from Hamilton School, were hosts recently to five other Brownie Troops and their mothers for an "end-of-year" Tea. More than 75 mothers attended the "girl planned" social. Also in attendance was Girl Scout Troop 861, big sister troop of the Brownie host, who explained the meaning of symbols on the Girl Scout pin and the World Association pin.

Highlight of the evening entertainment was a Maypole dance by Brownie Troop 465 from Dover School. Live guitar music by one of their members, Lisa Obert, maintained the tempo as they sang "Kookaburra" and "Kum Ba Yah."

Other stage presentations were: A Mexican hat dance by Troop 422 from St. Lucy's School; the Brownie Helper song by Troop 840 from Rosemary; Hansel and Gretel dance by Troop 158 from Dover; and a choreography arrangement of "It's a Small World" by Troop 761, the hosts.

Miss Maxine Smith and Miss Ann Sullivan, former leaders and recently from Niagara, New York, taught the group new songs.

Each girl served refreshments to her mother and guests as a special thank you for past support of her interest in Girl Scouting.

FATHERS LIKE DINNERS

Brownie Troop 422 of St. Lucy's School held a western style chow line dinner for their fathers recently to show appreciation for them and to share a program prepared especially for them.

Theme for the evening, California Bi-Centennial, based on studies the girls made of Father Junipero Serra's work in the mission field (first established 200 years ago) came through in the colorful paper flower table decorations. Each father wore similar paper flower boutonnieres made by his daughter. Wall posters depicting the theme were evident.

MUSIC FOR DANCERS---Mrs. Sam Obert whispers encouragement to her daughter, Lisa, as Brownie Leader, Mrs. Charles De Palmo gives the signal for music to begin the maypole dancers of Troop No. 465 at their recent mother-daughter tea.

After dinner, Laurie Winter, Julie Martin, Jeannie Clanton and Kathleen Guina opened the entertainment by presenting a flag ceremony; Eda Vincenzini and Veronica Golden each recited an appropriate poem; Patricia Richard played a piano selection; Barbara Farnham displayed acrobatic antics.

The entire troop of 27 girls prevued for their fathers, the Mexican hat dance they were planning for the mother-daughter tea a few days later.

Off-stage, but working in the kitchen, were Mdmes. M. E. Berryessa, C. L. Neal and Evelyn Sylvia.

Officers for the troop are Kathleen Guina, treasurer; Jeannie Clanton, assistant treasurer and Cathy Winter, secretary. Other members are: Linda Alaimo, Jane Allen, Mary Berryessa, Eileen Bradley, Peggy Bucher, Nina Cantecessi, Paulette Carlino, Barbara Carusa, Lisa Christian, Carolyn Mannina, Kelly Neal, Diane Neil and Diane Sylvia.

Mdmes. P. J. Calleja, R. G. Faler and P. J. Golden are the leaders.

Kirkwood Plaza plans dog obedience show, fun day

The Santa Clara Dog Training Club, Inc. will give a dog obedience demonstration Saturday, June 6 and Sunday, June 7, at the Kirkwood Plaza Shopping Center on Campbell Avenue and San Tomas Aquino Road. The first demonstration on Saturday will be immediately after the Kids' Amateur Dog Show at approximately 2 p.m. and again at 3 p.m.

Sunday's demonstration, AKC Trial judging within the club will begin at 1 p.m. according to Jim Crough, vice-president of training.

Also on Saturday will be a fun day for all the children. At 10 a.m. there will be a Kid's Amateur Dog Show for all types of dogs. Categories of Best Costumed Dog, Best Trick Dog, Smallest Dog, Largest Dog, Best Groomed Dog. The Ken-L-Ration Dog Show sponsored by the Kirkwood Plaza Merchants will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m.

The Santa Clara Dog Training Club, Inc. was incorporated as a non-profit organization in the State of California in 1955. It has been in continuous operation training dogs and their owners at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds since then.

The club is licensed by the American Kennel Club to hold obedience trials, and in 1970 will hold their 12th annual trial. These trials make it possible for dogs to obtain their C.D. (Companion Dog), C.D.X. (Companion Dog Excellent) and U.D. (Utility Dog) degrees.

In addition to the regular training classes the club gives a special five week training course for juniors (ages 9 through 15); these classes are conducted by club members. The club donates trophies and ribbons to be given to highest scoring dogs on graduation, held on the fifth week. Each junior trainer donates 50¢ which the club gives to the local Humane Society. Over a hundred children enjoy these classes each year.

The club is particularly interested in the Guide Dogs for the Blind at San Rafael and donates a percentage of the regular training fees to them annually.

VIOLET CLUB

The Santa Clara Valley African Violet Club will meet June 2 at the Rose Garden Branch of the San Jose Library at 12 noon.

A report on the annual African Violet Show will be given by Mrs. Fredrick Hill, show chairman.

Hostess for the June meeting is Mrs. Lucien Gassman.

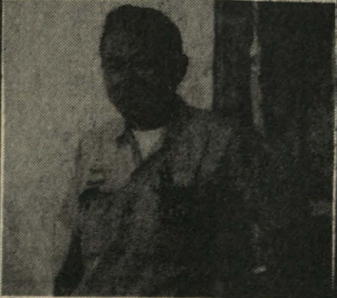
THIS WEEK'S SPOTLIGHT ON



HARRY KANEKO

One of the busiest service stations in the Campbell area is Harry's Shell Service at the corner of San Tomas Aquino and Campbell Avenue in the Kirkwood Plaza shopping center. Operating on a 24-hour a day schedule, owner-operator Harry Kaneko employs thirteen men to assist him in pumping gas, servicing and repairing cars on a round-the-clock basis.

In addition to gas and oil service and a well-stocked accessory department, Harry's specializes in brake and electrical service and tune-ups.

A native of Salem, Oregon, Harry was graduated before leaving for Chicago from Salem high school where he spent 20 years as a mechanic before coming to Santa Clara county. Prior to opening his own station in Kirkwood Plaza two years ago, Harry had been with Shell in Santa Clara. Married, he has two children, both girls, aged 13 and 15, attending local schools.
